Weather Forecasting Model using Machine Learning

- In this project, I developed a weather forecasting model using Machine Learning techniques to predict local weather conditions. Leveraging historical weather data, I applied regression algorithms to create accurate predictions for temperature, wind speed, and precipitation.
- TeamSize:1 Role: Developer and Technical Writer
- This project aimed to accurately predict weather conditions to help to determine future climate changes.

Facial Mouse Controlling System Model Using Machine Learning

| Machine Learning July - 2023

- Collaborated with a team to Develop an innovative facial mouse controlling system that utilizes machine learning techniques to enable hands-free computer interaction.
- Team Size:3 Role: Developer and Technical Writer
- This project aimed to provide an accessible solution for individuals with motor disabilities, allowing them to navigate and control a computer using facial expressions.
